TWO DAYS END IN A MISTRIAL

Novel Idea Put Forth by a Juror on Jury Room Dissension.

A mistrial was the result of the effort of two days before Judge De Bolt to administer justice in the cause of W. R. Castle against H. T. Marsh and John Emmeluth. It was a claim of $2500, balance of principal, and $750 interest, on a promissory note for $12,300. J. W. Cathcart and T. M. Harrison appeared for the plaintiff and S. H. Derby for the defendants.

The jury consisting of Thos. H. Kennedy, David Hurst, R. W. Podmore, St. C. Sayres, Henry Andrews, Wm. M. Graham, W. E. Tyrrell, R. W. Cathcart, Jas. R. Arcia, John Duncan, M. F. Cunningham and Hiram Kolomoku retired at 12 noon, via a restaurant, to consider its verdict. Twice in the course of the afternoon the jurors came into court to tell how well they disagreed. They stood ten to two and said that this situation was absolutely fixed.

Juror Cathcart, when Judge De Bolt had urged that they ought to come to some conclusion under their oath to render a verdict according to the law and the evidence, rejoined:

"It's easy for the court to reach a conclusion. It is only one man. We are twelve."

At 5:30 the jury sounded an alarm but all they had to communicate to the court was that they were still unchanged. Judge De Bolt replied with a message that he was in no hurry, he could wait for them until midnight. Nevertheless, the opposing counsel having given up hopes of a verdict, the jurors were called in a little later and discharged, a mistrial being entered.

THE GALBRAITH ESTATE.
Hawaiian Trust Co., Ltd., trustee, in its objections to executors' accounts and motion for reference, in the matter of the estate of George Galbraith, deceased, says it does not appear whether the $57,424.54, cash on hand as stated in a submission to the Supreme Court, has been invested or what rate of interest it is bearing. It is contended that a note of Cecil Brown for $15,000 at 4% per cent should have been called in at maturity and reinvested at current rates of interest. Objection is made to premiums on bonds of executors, two sums of $255 each paid to Waterhouse Trust Co., as being not proper charges against the estate.

THE LAND COURT.
In the matter of the petition of Henry Peters for a registered title to land in Manoa, the Territory of Hawaii by Fred. W. Milverton, Deputy Attorney General, claims a lien for $106.30 taxes on the land.

Judge Weaver has confirmed a subdivision of blocks 11 and 12, Waihala, into five lots on a plan made by J. F. Brown, assistant surveyor of the Court of Land Registration, the blocks in question having been enumerated and described as lots in certificate of registration No. 4. The order is made on the petition of T. H. Gibson, W. B. Thomas and Eron O. Clark, trustees, and "is authority to the assistant registrar to accept any deeds describing and designating these subdivisions and dealing with them as separate lots."

AFTER ZOO PROCEEDS.
Howard W. Adams has brought suit against the Kaimuki Heights Zoo, Ltd., for $598.35 as balance of salary as manager of the Zoo from August 1 to Nov. 19. Jas. F. Morgan, A. A. Steven, Geo. D. Gear, P. E. R. Strauch, Mrs. Camp, J. D. McVeigh, D. P. R. Isenberg, H. Armitage and the Rapid Transit Co. are named as garnishees, the list comprising the principal purchasers at the late auction.

COURT ITEMS.
John Gaspar enters a general denial to the complaint of A. S. Cleghorn in assumpsit.
Harry T. Mills, sued individually and as administrator of the estate of the late H. E. Highton, enters a disclaimer of possession of any of the goods claimed in replevin by William M. Black.

CHINESE GAMBLERS PLEADED GUILTY
The four Chinese gamblers captured at the Iwilei wash houses on Tuesday pleaded guilty as charged yesterday and were fined five dollars apiece and costs. So far, it is well worthy of note, the present police administration has not failed to make good in every one of the numerous, almost daily, charges of gambling they bring before Judge Whitney, nor has the decision of the lower court been reversed in a single one of the appeals so far taken before the Circuit Court, where indeed the original fines and sentences have been doubled and tripled.

Two of the three drunks called failed to answer, forfeiting their $6 bail. The other one got off with the usual $3 imposition.
S. Sumeda, a hack driver, was pulled just in time to get his name on the court calendar for the day. Sumeda felt that an unfair advantage had been taken of him and sulked considerably while waiting for his turn to come up. He had visited the Inter-Island wharf and left his hack standing outside the gate. When he returned for it the rig had vanished. Now, Sumeda had heard of the great success the present police had been having in locating and restoring lost things so he decided that the first thing for him to do was to go to the station and report his loss. When he got there, there was his hack tied up in front of the building and he entered joyously to thank the good police for catching his runaway.
It came as a considerable shock to him to find himself placed under arrest just as soon as he announced that the hack was his. A policeman had found the untied horse and had driven the outfit to the station, where he was laying in wait for the owner to appear.

Sumeda explained that he had left a boy in the hack to watch his horse, but the explanation failed to explain and he was forced to dig up a five spot before he could gather up the reins and drive away.

ALL LUMBER BROUGHT FOR THE BIG THREE

Herman Hugo, a clerk of H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., had a long siege on the witness stand in the lumber trust investigation yesterday. Recalled in the forenoon it was 5:38 in the afternoon before he was released, and that only for the day. Messrs. Breckons and Dunne for the United States had him load up heavily with memoranda of papers they require him to bring into court this morning.

There is no saying when District Attorney Breckons would have let go yesterday had not Commissioner Hatch become restive as dinner time approached and suggested an adjournment. Mr. Hugo's testimony was on similar lines to that he gave a few days ago. All of the lumber imported by Hackfelds was from the Sound and witness produced various invoices, all of them to H. Hackfeld & Co. but to the order of some one of the three defendant firms in each instance. These invoices showed the actual quantity of lumber brought in.

Witness also produced an invoice for a certain order divided between the three defendants—Allen & Robinson, Lewers & Cooke and Wilder & Co. The rest of his time was taken up with identifying orders to Hackfelds from one or other of the three defendants, the invoice that accompanied each shipment when it came and the bill rendered for the lumber when so brought.

All of Mr. Hugo's testimony was brought out to show that in their lumber importations the Hackfelds were simply go-between, the real importers being one and all of the three defendant corporations.
C. P. Morse, general freight agent here of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Co., recalled, was the first witness of the day. He went over the ground as to the difference in freight rates and testified that, while he figured in shingles in order to make up the 150,000 feet of lumber calling for the reduced rate, he did not figure the shingles so that the three defendant firms got the rate on them. He figured the reduction on the lumber only.

In deciding whether the 150,000 feet were shipped so as to obtain the $7 rate he treated shingles, but not doors, etc., as lumber. All other forms of lumber except poles he treated as lumber pure and simple. Though all the shipments were nominally for H. Hackfeld & Co., they were really for some one of the three defendant firms.
Mr. Morse was excused for the day at this stage on account of having to attend to the dispatch of a steamer in port.
